

Little Story Shapers Photography Policy

Throughout this policy, 'photography' refers to any images, whether moving or still including but not limited to DVDs, videos, photographic prints, slides and electronic image files.

Little Story Shapers recognises the need to ensure the welfare and safety of all our customers.

We will not permit photographs, video or other images of to be taken without the consent of the parents/carer.

Little Story Shapers will take all steps to ensure these images are used solely for the purposes they are intended. If you become aware that these images are being used inappropriately you should inform Sarah Morgan at Little Story Shapers immediately.

Photography forms an important part of classes as we like to make photographic record of a parent and child's time spent in class. We also use photography for advertising purposes including newspapers, leaflets, social media and on our website

When booking a Little Story Shapers class, parents are required to specify if they consent to photos being taken. Little Story Shapers will store this information and ensure that preferences are abided by.

If you would like to change your preference, please email sarah@littlestoryshapers.co.uk. Any further photography will not be permitted, however previous photos will remain.
